EXPERIENCE & EXPERTISE

Ian Britton

William Seaby

Since forming Willton Homes in 1996, Co-Directors Ian Britton and William Seaby have built up an enviable reputation for their flexible and understanding approach to the individual needs and preferences of their customers.

Ian Britton has considerable working knowledge of the building industry. Many years spent working for both his father's building company and for himself have gained him a solid and respected reputation within the industry. His experiences have given him a flexible and understanding approach towards his customers.

As Director of Building, Ian oversees the progress of Willton's projects, ensuring that time scales are adhered to and that work runs smoothly and efficiently. He prides himself on his careful selection of materials to achieve the best combination of traditional and modern building methods.

Before forming Willton Homes Ltd, William Seaby, who is a quantity surveyor, worked for national developers and building contractors. Ultimately responsible for the cost-effectiveness and profitability of multi-million pound developments. William has gained considerable experience of decision-making, working to deadlines and handling budgets.

William is responsible for the sales and marketing of the Company. His duties also include land acquisition, surveying, and the general smooth running of the office.

TURNING DREAMS INTO REALITY

Considerable time is taken to carefully source and select suitable building materials. This ensures that a Wilton Home will not only compliment the prevailing building style of the area but will also seamlessly blend with surrounding properties.

WILTON HOMES PORTFOLIO TRADITIONAL NEW HOMES

Wilton Homes specialises in building homes on individual plots or small exclusive developments.

WILLTON HOMES PORTFOLIO CONTEMPORARY NEW HOMES

The company believes that a Willton Home should reflect the character and lifestyle of its new owners.
